

Online Figure A. Normal heel varus. The heel normally turns inward when patients are asked to stand on their toes, indicating an intact posterior tibial tendon.

Online Figure B. Os perineum (arrow). A sesamoid bone within the peroneal brevis tendon located along the lateral border of the cuboid.