Dear Speaker Ryan, Minority Leader Pelosi, Majority Leader McConnell, and Minority Leader Schumer:

Our organizations commend the Congressional support to advance legislation – H.R. 1318/S. 1112 – to reduce maternal mortality in the United States. We urge you to move swiftly to bring the legislation for a vote in the House of Representatives and the Senate before the end of this calendar year.

Our nation faces a growing crisis in maternal health. More women die from pregnancy-related complications in the United States than in any other developed country, and the rate of maternal deaths continues to rise. Major disparities in maternal mortality exist, with black women three to four times more likely than white women to die during pregnancy or shortly after birth. Moreover, for every maternal death that occurs, an estimated 100 other women suffer severe complications of pregnancy or childbirth. We must act now – in the 115th Congress – to reverse this trend and save mothers' lives.

This important legislation is the beginning of a longer-term solution toward eradicating preventable maternal death and improving maternal and infant health in the United States. The legislation will accelerate progress toward ensuring that every state has a high-functioning process for identifying the causes of maternal mortality and working across communities to implement solutions.

The Senate Health, Education, Labor, and Pensions (HELP) Committee has already unanimously approved S. 1112. The leadership of the House Energy and Commerce Committee's Health Subcommittee expressed bipartisan support during a September 2018 hearing on H.R. 1318 for passing the bill this year. Congress is on the cusp of sending legislation to the President's desk that will equip the United States with the tools it needs to tackle this problem and move the country forward in addressing the growing maternal mortality crisis.

We strongly urge you to bring H.R. 1318/S. 1112 to the House and Senate floor for a full vote before the end of this calendar year.

Sincerely,

1,000 Days
