I. Purpose and Objectives of the National Conference of Constituency Leaders (NCCL)

A. Purpose

The National Conference of Constituency Leaders (NCCL), first held in 1990 as the National Conference of Women, BIPOC (Black, Indigenous, People of Color) and New Physicians (NCWMNP), is a vehicle to more effectively integrate the perspectives and concerns of AAFP members from underrepresented constituencies, to the benefit of an increasingly diverse membership and patient population. The NCCL is designed to focus on, and give impetus to, the perspectives and special concerns of grassroots members from the constituency groups.

B. Objectives

1. To provide an opportunity for Board-approved member constituencies [currently Women; BIPOC; New Physicians; International Medical Graduates (IMG); and LGBTQ+ physicians] and other emerging constituencies to become more familiar with AAFP programs, exchange information, share experiences, develop basic leadership skills, and to encourage participation in the AAFP governance structure at both the local and national levels.
2. To provide a forum whereby the Board of Directors may be better informed as to the concerns of the constituency groups and discuss with them priorities for AAFP activities.
3. To provide an opportunity for these groups to identify issues of particular concern to family physicians and to make specific recommendations by way of resolutions to the AAFP's Board of Directors and Congress of Delegates.
4. To allow the New Physicians constituency to elect a nominee for the New Physician Member of the Board of Directors.
5. To allow the New Physicians constituency to elect two Alternate Delegates, in accordance with the AAFP Bylaws, who serve one year in that capacity before succeeding to the position of Delegate in the following Congress of Delegates.
6. To allow all New Physicians present (no matter which constituency they are in attendance to represent) to elect two Delegates to the American Medical Association's Young Physicians Section (AMA-YPS).
7. To allow the Women; BIPOC; IMG; and LGBTQ+ constituencies to elect six Member Constituency Alternate Delegates, in accordance with the AAFP Bylaws, who serve one year in that capacity before succeeding to the position of Delegate in the following Congress. The constituency Delegates and Alternate Delegates represent the views of the grassroots constituency members in the debate and decisions of the Congress of Delegates.

II. NCCL Business Procedures

A. The business of the NCCL shall be conducted annually.

1. Attendance

- a. Any member of the AAFP may register for and attend the conference as a General Registrant. Chapters may specify an active member to be a Chapter Delegate for each of the Board-approved constituencies.
- b. The member constituencies are defined as follows for the purposes of the conference:
 - i. Women physicians are those who self-identify as women.
 - ii. BIPOC physicians are defined as they are by the U.S. Census Bureau: African American, Asian, Native Hawaiian or other Pacific Islander, American Indian, Alaska Native, ethnic Latino, Other.
 - iii. New Physicians are those who completed residency or extended training immediately following residency seven years ago or less. Individuals who graduate from a residency program but who enter a fellowship continue in the resident member status until completion of their fellowship, whereupon they become active members. For those individuals, the seven-year time period for purpose of New Physician Board member eligibility would not begin upon graduation from their residency program, but rather they would have seven years after completion of their fellowship.
 - iv. IMGs are graduates from a medical school outside of the United States, Canada and Puerto Rico.
 - v. LGBTQ+ physicians are those who self-identify as LGBTQ+ or who are supportive of LGBTQ+ issues.

c. Chapter Delegates

- i. Chapter Delegates must be members in the Active AAFP membership classification only. Chapter Delegates are designated by chapters for each of the Board-approved member constituency groups. They must meet the definition of the constituency group they represent, and their member classification must be Active the first day of the conference with dues paid in full or be enrolled in the installment payment plan to be eligible to serve. Chapter Delegates may serve on Reference or Tellers Committees, submit resolutions, testify in all reference committee hearings, testify and vote on resolutions in the business sessions, and vote in the Co-Convenor, Alternate Delegate, and/or Delegate elections.

- ii. Chapters may seek out individuals to send from their jurisdiction or they may take requests for consideration from interested individuals. Co-Conveners may come as a Chapter Delegate for their chapter but are only eligible to come for the constituency that they have been elected to represent.
 - iii. A Chapter Delegate may be replaced on site by a General Registrant from the same chapter if the General Registrant meets the criteria for that constituency. A request for such a substitution must come from both the General Registrant and Chapter Executive directly to the NCCL Conference Strategist. At the time of substitution, voting privileges will be revoked from the original member and given to the replacement.
 - iv. A Chapter Delegate may change the constituency they have been named to represent only if the Chapter Delegate meets the definition of the constituency group they wish to represent, and the chapter does not already have a representative for the constituency group he/she wishes to represent. A request for such a change must come from the Chapter Executive directly to the NCCL Conference Manager and must occur prior to the first business session of NCCL. At the time of change, all voting privileges are, then, restricted to the member constituency group the Chapter Delegate represents until the close of NCCL.
- d. General Registrants
- i. General Registrants may contribute to the discussions, run for office if they are an AAFP member in the Active membership category and meet the definitions and requirements, volunteer for the Reference or Tellers Committees, co-sponsor resolutions (if endorsed by at least two Chapter Delegates), and testify on policy issues during any of the NCCL reference committees and business sessions. They may not vote on policy issues, make motions or propose amendments during the NCCL business session, or vote in any AAFP Delegate, Alternate Delegate, or Co-Convenor elections. If qualified, they will be allowed to vote in the AMA-YPS Delegate election.
 - ii. General Registrants, in the Active membership category only, will be allowed to fill open constituency slots for their chapter as long as they meet the definition of the constituency group they intend to represent and have dues paid in full or are enrolled in the installment payment plan. A request must come from the Chapter Executive directly to the NCCL Conference Manager. General Registrants will only be allowed to fill open constituency slots for the chapter in which they are members in good standing.
 - iii. Members in the Supporting, Inactive, Life, Transitional, Resident, and Student membership classifications may not come as a Chapter Delegate; however, these members are encouraged to attend as General Registrants to the conference. They may contribute to the discussions, co-sponsor resolutions (if endorsed by at least two Chapter Delegates) and testify on policy issues during any of the NCCL reference committees and business session. They may not vote in any elections or serve on the Tellers Committee; however, they may volunteer as an observer for a reference committee.

- B. A majority (one more than half) of the total registered Chapter Delegates shall constitute a quorum at any business session of the NCCL.
- C. The most current edition of The American Institute of Parliamentarians, The Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure shall govern all proceedings of the NCCL, except when in conflict with the AAFP Bylaws or specific provisions of these Rules of Order.
- D. The NCCL Convener will serve as Chair and shall preside over the business sessions with assistance at their discretion.
- E. Reference committees shall be appointed by the NCCL Convener to facilitate the work of the NCCL. Whenever possible, the NCCL will follow the same protocols as the AAFP Congress of Delegates. Reference committee hearings will be staggered, to be scheduled on such days and at such times to be determined by the NCCL Convener. Reference committees will operate according to the document on “Powers and Duties of Reference Committees.”
- F. Resolutions must be presented in writing by the published deadline. To be considered for introduction to a reference committee, submitted resolutions must be endorsed by at least two NCCL Chapter Delegates.

A maximum of 50 resolutions will be accepted for consideration. Each constituency may submit up to 10 resolutions. The determination of which constituency submitted the resolution will be based on the constituency represented by the chapter delegate serving as the resolution’s primary author.

Upon submission, the NCCL Conference Manager will determine the ultimate designation of which reference committee will act on a resolution. This determination will consider (a) the relevance of the issue to the various topics, (b) the possible grouping of like issues for consideration, and (c) the relative workload for each of the reference committees. Each resolution will be referred to only one reference committee.

It is the discretion of the business session to determine the relevance of the reference committee recommendation for referral destination; however, the CMMS has ultimate approval of any referrals to the Congress of Delegates. If the CMMS determines, based on a pre-determined criterion set forth in the supplemental document, Powers and Duties of Reference Committees, that a referral does not belong with the Congress of Delegates, it will, instead, refer the resolution to the Board of Directors.

- G. Any resolution not previously discussed in a reference committee must be typed or legibly printed and presented to the NCCL Convener no later than 6:00 p.m. on the evening prior to the start of the first business session. The Late Resolutions Committee (comprised of the NCCL Convener and Reference Committee Chairs) will then review such resolutions. It is within the discretion of this committee to recommend whether the business session should consider the introduction, based on whether it contains timely, pertinent, and new information.

Prior to the start of the business session's scheduled agenda, the recommendation of the Late Resolutions Committee will be announced. Two-thirds (2/3) of the registered Chapter Delegates present must vote in favor of allowing the late resolution for it to be introduced and considered. Once a resolution is accepted by the NCCL, it "belongs" to the conference which then has the authority to wordsmith the language, when appropriate, for better understanding.

Late resolutions shall be considered in the order received, except that the NCCL Convener reserves the right to determine the order of business based on the importance of the issues and the amount of time available for discussion.

- H. All conference registrants may have the privilege of the floor and engage in debate after being recognized by the Chair.
- I. No one shall speak more than once on any issue or separate motion until all who wish to speak have been heard. No one shall speak more than twice without permission of the Chair or by majority vote of the NCCL.
- J. Debate on a single issue shall be limited to two minutes per speaker and no more than 15 minutes overall, except by permission of the Chair or by majority vote of the NCCL, provided both sides have been represented on the debate.
- K. All Chapter Delegates may vote on policy issues and in elections during the business sessions.
- L. Amending motions on the floor of the NCCL is limited to first order amendments only.
- M. Passage of a motion during the business sessions requires a majority vote (one more than half of the total registered Chapter Delegates) except for motions which require greater than a majority as specified in The Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure, current edition. All motions require a second. The Chair may conduct a headcount at any time during the business sessions to verify the number of Chapter Delegates present. If there is not a majority present, all voting must be suspended until a later time or subsequent meeting.
- N. Voting shall be by voice, "yes" and "no", except where the NCCL Convener or a Chapter Delegate calls for a division, in which case a standing, hand, written, or electronic vote shall be taken.

- O. There are various opportunities for volunteer leadership at the NCCL. These opportunities allow participation in reference committees, the Tellers Committee, and as Parliamentarian. Appointments for these volunteer positions will be solicited via an NCCL volunteer service application form. Appointments for these positions will be made by the NCCL Convener and announced on site at the NCCL.

P. Rules of Order and Parliamentary Procedure.

1. The Rules of Order shall govern all parliamentary proceedings of the NCCL except when in conflict with the AAFP Bylaws. The NCCL Convener is responsible for enforcement of parliamentary procedure according to the Rules of Order. Further interpretation of these procedures, as necessary, will be made by the NCCL Convener, utilizing the most current edition of The American Institute of Parliamentarians, The Standard Code of Parliamentary Procedure.
2. Recommendations to amend the Rules of Order may be proposed by the NCCL and submitted to the Board Chair or Board of Directors for their approval.

III. Rules of Election

- A. A Tellers Committee will be comprised of one member from each constituency appointed by the NCCL Convener. This group oversees all elections, works with staff to collect ballots, tallies votes, and relays results to the constituency Caucus or Business Session Chair, and may be called upon during the business sessions to assist with any hand or written votes. Members of the Tellers Committee must not be running for any office during the conference.
- B. AAFP Bylaws authorize the seating of two Delegates and two Alternate Delegates at the AAFP Congress of Delegates from the New Physicians constituency (with no sunset date) and six Delegates and six Alternate Delegates from the remaining four Member Constituencies (with a sunset date of 2025). Each constituency, except for New Physicians will elect two Co-Conveners for the following year's conference. These individuals will also become candidates for the elections of six constituency Alternate Delegates (or Delegates, if necessary) the following day.

AAFP Bylaws authorize the election of one candidate for the New Physician Director on the Board of Directors for a one-year term. The candidate must then be approved by the Congress of Delegates to be seated on the Board of Directors.

- C. The following elections will be held in conjunction with the NCCL:
 1. One Convener (for the subsequent NCCL)
 2. One new physician nominee for the Board of Directors
 3. Eight Co-Conveners (two each for the Women, BIPOC, IMG, and LGBTQ+ constituencies) for NCCL the following year

4. Six Member Constituency Alternate Delegates to the AAFP Congress of Delegates who will serve as Delegates the following year
5. Two New Physicians Alternate Delegates to the AAFP Congress of Delegates who will serve as Delegates to the Congress of Delegates as well as Co-Convener for NCCL the following year
6. One Delegate to the AMA Young Physicians Section (YPS)

D. Voting Delegates.

1. Only those conference registrants who are designated by their chapter as a Chapter Delegate to a constituency will be given ballot packets to vote for NCCL Convener, Co-Conveners, and Alternate Delegates (and Delegates if necessary) for that constituency.
2. Only those conference registrants who are designated by their chapter as a Chapter Delegate to the New Physicians constituency will be given ballot packets to vote for the New Physician candidate for the Board of Directors.
3. All conference registrants who meet the AAFP definition of a New Physician (whether coming as a Chapter Delegate or General Registrant) will be given ballot packets to vote for the AAFP's AMA-YPS Delegate.
