Voting Procedure

Resolutions & Actionable Business

With the exception of elections, business requiring action by the membership will be decided by a majority of the legal votes cast. A majority is the vote of more than half of the members voting. Voting on resolutions and other actionable business shall be by voice ("ayes" and "nays") except where the AFMRD president calls for a division, in which case a hand, standing, or electronic vote shall be taken.

Election of Officers – Candidates listed on next page

As stated by the revised Rules of Order, elections will be decided by a simple plurality rather than majority. A simple plurality is defined as the most votes for any choice in an election, but not necessarily a majority.

Elections will be voted on simultaneously using electronic voting devices.

During the election of the Members-At-Large, you will be asked to choose 3 candidates.

The 3 candidates receiving the highest number of votes will be elected.

In the event of a tie, a run-off vote for that position will occur.

The membership may be asked for a motion to elect by acclamation if the number of candidates is equal to the number of open positions.

Vacancy

It is anticipated that the Treasurer position will become vacant once the President-Elect position has been elected. The AFMRD Bylaws state that any vacancy in the position of Treasurer shall be filled by the voting members at the next annual meeting (April 2019). A vacancy may or may not, at the AFMRD Board's discretion, be filled by an appointee of the AFMRD Board until the next annual meeting.

2017 Treasurer's Report

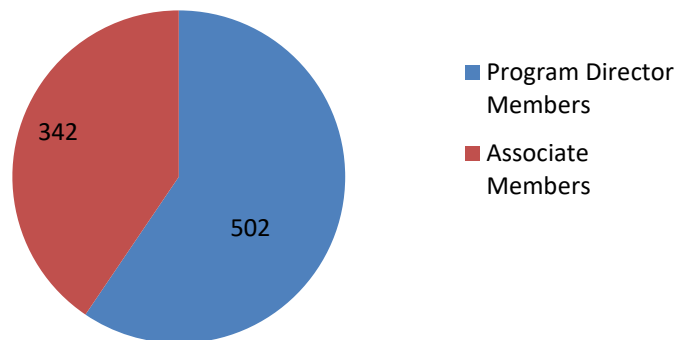

The Association of Family Medicine Residency Directors is securely positioned financially and strategically. Membership has remained strong. Due to your continued membership, the unwavering demand for NIPDD, a continued high demand for Residency Curriculum Resource subscriptions and the continued judicious stewardship of the resources and reserves available to our organization, AFMRD is able to continue to serve the needs of its members and look to expand in directions deemed important within the world of Family Medicine.

2017 showed an increase in program director membership over 2016 (459 to 502). Associate Membership went down (393 to 342). There is still a concerted outreach to program directors of AOA accredited programs as they make the move to ACGME accreditation with the single accreditation system.

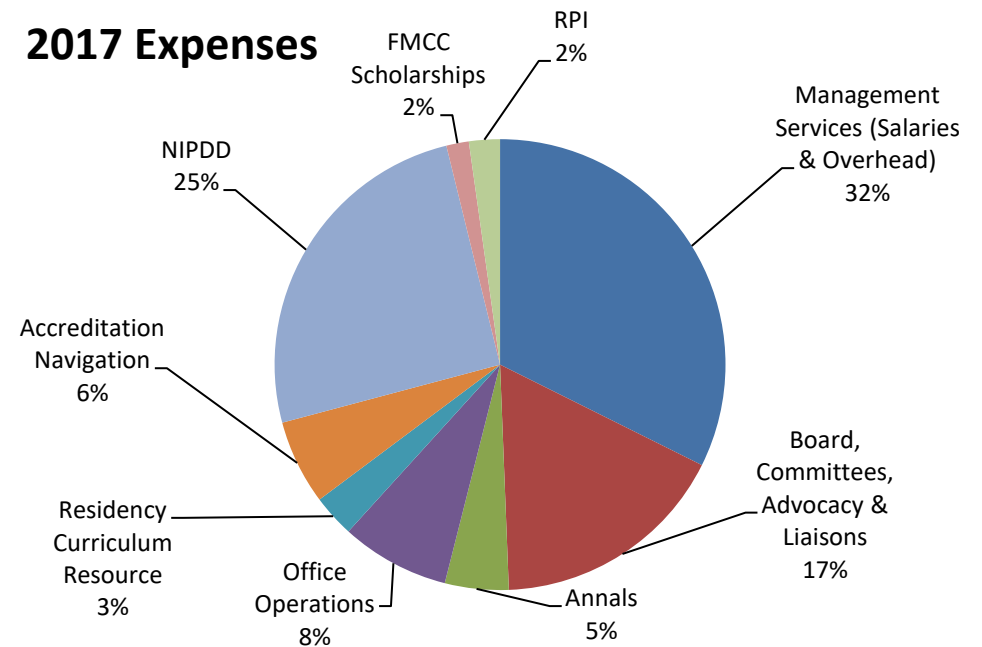

AFMRD continues to support a number of efforts in the world of family medicine: awards for residents and program directors, the CAFM Educational Research Alliance (CERA), Annals of Family Medicine, the Center for History of Family Medicine, CAFM advocacy, and AFMRD liaisons to other key family medicine organizations. In addition, AFMRD provides support for the work of Family Medicine for America's Health.
