

Craig M. Doane

Executive Director American Academy of Family Physicians Foundation
Senior Vice President, Journal Media & Strategic Partnerships, AAFP

---

Craig Doane joined the AAFP Foundation in 2007 and oversees the journal media enterprise, all corporate strategic partnerships and Foundation activities, which annually raise more than $20 million in advertising, grants and donations. In this capacity, he oversees the development and publication of the two AAFP journals American Family Physician and Family Practice Management, develops and implements funding strategies for the organization, manages the organization's grant writing and administration process, and provides administrative and management oversight of journal media, foundation and development staff. As Vice President, Doane is also involved in organization-wide strategy and policy-development activities. Doane serves as a nonvoting member and secretary of the AAFP Foundation Board of Trustees and actively participates in the activities of the AAFP Board of Directors.

Doane brings 28 years of professional experience in business and financial development to the AAFP. Prior to joining the AAFP he served 12 years as Chief Development Officer for The National Kidney Foundation and also served for five years as Vice President of Development for The National Children's Cancer Society. Most recently, he was Chief Executive Officer for the Belle Center of St. Louis, a regional nonprofit organization dedicated to providing therapy and support services to children with disabilities.

Doane is a member of the Association of Fund Raising Professionals, the professional association for individuals responsible for generating philanthropic support for a wide variety of nonprofit, charitable organizations. He is also a member of the Board of Trustees for MidAmerican Nazarene University.

Doane received a master's degree in educational administration from the University of Missouri-Kansas City and a bachelor's degree in business administration from MidAmerica Nazarene University in Olathe, Kansas.

Doane and his wife, Laurie, have two children.