

American Academy of Family Physicians National Conference 2017

Resilience: a weapon every physician should cultivate

1. María del C Colon-Gonzalez MD, @mcgmed2010
2. Kim Yu MD, FAAFP, @drkkyu

Instructions: Identify activities/role areas that are most critical and significant to you as a person. Think how much time you dedicate to each activity/role; then divide the pie into pieces. The size of the piece should represent how much time you devote to this area and how significant it is to you.

