

America Needs More Family Doctors: 25x2030

The U.S. is facing a primary care physician shortage. That's why eight family medicine organizations launched the America Needs More Family Doctors: 25x2030 collaborative.

Why 25x2030?

By 2025, the estimated shortage of primary care physicians in the U.S. will reach 52,000+.

Family physicians make up nearly 40% of the current U.S. primary care physician workforce.

THE GOAL: Ensure 25% of U.S. medical students pursue family medicine by 2030. A robust family medicine workforce is critical to providing appropriate and accessible care for all.

Where we are today

1 in 8 U.S. medical students/graduates enter FAMILY MEDICINE RESIDENCIES each year

OUR 2030 GOAL

1 in 4 U.S. medical students/graduates enter FAMILY MEDICINE RESIDENCIES each year

Get Involved

Be a catalyst that helps achieve the primary care workforce our nation so desperately needs. Here's how:

- 1. Become a preceptor. U.S. medical schools face a drastic shortage of community preceptors in family medicine. Learn more at aafp.org/family-doctor-expansion.
- 2. Contact your local AAFP Chapter and find out how you can help engage medical students, advocate for policy change, and develop the workforce. Visit aafp.org/chapterdirectory for contact information.
- 3. Get involved in your community by:
 - Speaking at a local school or youth club.
 - Encouraging and supporting STEM education.
 - Asking your young patients about their interest in family medicine.

Use AAFP resources at aafp.org/fm-presentations to help you talk about family medicine.
