Dear Working Party Colleagues,

I wanted to share some more details about the ABFM's efforts to create health equity tools and incentives for front-line family physicians. The attached, short set of slides give some details about the functionality of the Population Health Assessment Engine and its related curriculum that will launch later this spring. We would be delighted to schedule a webinar to demonstrate them and to get your feedback. We think these contribute to the array of valuable tools being developed by the AAFP and FMAHealth.

Sincerely,
Bob Phillips
